

INDIANA UNIVERSITY KOKOMO

SCHOOL OF NURSING

ASSISTANT PROFESSOR-TENURE TRACK

One of eight campuses of Indiana University, Indiana University Kokomo is a comprehensive non-residential campus located in Kokomo, Indiana, a city with a population of about 48,000, 50 miles north of Indianapolis, Headquarters of Sigma Theta Tau International. Committed to student success and diversity, the campus serves approximately 2,800 students from an 11-county area in north central Indiana. An additional 220 students pursue degrees in technology in cooperation with Purdue University. IU Kokomo has approximately 240 faculty and staff and 125 part-time employees. Associate, baccalaureate, and master's degrees are offered. Additional information about Indiana University Kokomo can be accessed at <http://www.iuk.edu>.

The Indiana University Kokomo School of Nursing invites applications for tenure-track assistant professors with primary responsibilities for didactic and clinical teaching in the baccalaureate nursing degree program. Indiana University Kokomo promotes a dynamic learning environment where faculty of differing backgrounds can successfully pursue their academic goals. Nursing faculty believe that high quality education is their primary mission. Initial appointment will begin January 1, 2009 or August 1, 2009. Primary teaching responsibilities would be in one of the following areas:

Med/Surg
Mental Health
Adult Health
Leadership/Management

Tenure-track faculty members are expected to be effective teachers, active researchers (publishing in journals), and participating members of the university, professional, and local communities. Educational preparation at the master's level with a major in nursing is required; completion of the doctorate is expected within 2 years of the date of appointment. Candidates will be evaluated on previous teaching experience along with leadership and organizational skills, effective interpersonal skills and the potential for scholarly productivity in their field of expertise. Salary is competitive and based on a 10-month commitment.

Interested candidates must either currently hold or be eligible for an Indiana RN license and submit a letter of application, curriculum vitae, official transcripts, and contact information for 3 professional references to Dr. Sue Hendricks, search committee chair, Indiana University Kokomo School of Nursing, P.O. Box 9003, Kokomo, IN 46904-9003. Review of applications will begin upon receipt of application materials and continue until the position is filled. The successful candidate will be required to undergo a background check mandated by the state. Dr. Hendricks may be reached for further inquiry at shendric@iuk.edu or 765-455-9259.

Indiana University Kokomo is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer. Persons needing assistance to apply for this position should contact the Office of Affirmative Action at 765-455-9529.

INDIANA UNIVERSITY KOKOMO

SCHOOL OF NURSING

CLINICAL ASSISTANT PROFESSOR

One of eight campuses of Indiana University, Indiana University Kokomo is a comprehensive non-residential campus located in Kokomo, Indiana, a city with a population of about 48,000, 50 miles north of Indianapolis, Headquarters of Sigma Theta Tau International. Committed to student success and diversity, the campus serves approximately 2,800 students from an 11-county area in north central Indiana. An additional 220 students pursue degrees in technology in cooperation with Purdue University. IU Kokomo has approximately 240 faculty and staff and 125 part-time employees. Associate, baccalaureate, and master's degrees are offered. Additional information about Indiana University Kokomo can be accessed at <http://www.iuk.edu>.

The Indiana University Kokomo School of Nursing invites applications for clinical assistant professors with primary responsibilities in didactic and clinical teaching in the baccalaureate nursing degree program. Indiana University Kokomo promotes a dynamic learning environment where faculty of differing backgrounds can successfully pursue their academic goals. Nursing faculty believe that high quality education is their primary mission. Initial appointment will begin January 1, 2009 or August 1, 2009. Primary teaching responsibilities would be in one of the following areas:

Mental Health
Adult Health
Leadership/Management

Faculty members are expected to be effective teachers, and participating members of the university, professional, and local communities. Educational preparation at the master's level with a major in nursing is required. Candidates will be evaluated on previous teaching experience along with leadership and organizational skills, effective interpersonal skills and the potential for scholarly productivity in their field of expertise. Salary is competitive and based on a 10-month commitment.

Interested candidates must either currently hold or be eligible for an Indiana RN license and submit a letter of application, curriculum vitae, official transcripts, and contact information for 3 professional references to Dr. Sue Hendricks, search committee chair, Indiana University Kokomo School of Nursing, P.O. Box 9003, Kokomo, IN 46904-9003. Review of applications will begin upon receipt of application materials and continue until the position is filled. The successful candidate will be required to undergo a background check mandated by the state. Dr. Hendricks may be reached for further inquiry at shendric@iuk.edu or 765-455-9259.

Indiana University Kokomo is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer. Persons needing assistance to apply for this position should contact the Office of Affirmative Action at 765-455-9529.