

Assistant Professor Position in Criminal Justice (2013-2014)

The Department of Criminal Justice and Homeland Security at Indiana University Kokomo invites applications for a full time, tenure-track position beginning August 1, 2013. Teaching course load will be 3 courses per semester. We are looking for someone to teach Corrections, American Policing and/or Criminal Law along with other courses consistent with the successful candidate's training and teaching experience that would contribute to the delivery and needs of our program. Candidates should also have an ongoing research agenda which leads to publication. Appropriate related service at the campus, university, professional, and/or community levels is also expected as a part of this position.

Preferred candidates will have an earned doctorate in criminal justice. Although those who are ABD and will earn a doctorate in criminal justice within two years of his/her initial appointment will also be considered. ABDs will have until November of the second year to earn the doctorate. Candidates must also have a master's degree in criminal justice or a closely related field. Candidates are expected to be both effective teachers and active scholars. Experience teaching at the college level, commitment to diversity, a strong interest in student mentoring, and experience teaching online are also preferred. We will begin reviewing applications on December 1, 2012 and will continue until the position is filled. All application materials and supportive documents should be received by that date.

Applicants must submit the following: a cover letter which addresses the qualifications as listed above, a curriculum vita (CV), university transcripts of all undergraduate and graduate degrees, three letters of reference, a statement of his/her teaching philosophy, and evidence of effective teaching. Cover and reference letters should be addressed to Dr. Nancy A. Greenwood, Chair, Department of Criminal Justice and Homeland Security. While electronic copies are preferred, either paper or electronic application materials should be sent to the department secretary, Linda Burkholder, Department of Criminal Justice and Homeland Security, 2300 S. Washington St., Indiana University Kokomo, IN 46904-9003 or to lburkho@iuk.edu.

The Department of Criminal Justice and Homeland Security (located within the School of Humanities and Social Sciences) is part of one of the fastest growing campuses of the Indiana University System. One of eight campuses of Indiana University, Indiana University Kokomo is a comprehensive non-residential campus located 50 miles north of Indianapolis in Kokomo, Indiana, a city with a population of about 47,000. Committed to student success, the campus serves approximately 3,700 students from an 11-county area in north central Indiana. An additional 150 pursue degrees in technology in cooperation with Purdue University. IU Kokomo has approximately 100 full-time faculty, 140 full-time staff and 125 part-time employees. Associate, baccalaureate, and master's degrees are offered. Additional information about Indiana University Kokomo can be accessed at <http://www.iuk.edu>. Persons with disabilities who need assistance to participate in this application process should contact the Office of Affirmative Action at 765-455-9529.

Indiana University is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer