

Searching for Nursing Journals

The following is a partial listing of resources available in the Indiana University Kokomo Library that will assist you in locating materials.

The Ask-A-Librarian Desk is staffed Monday – Thursday 9:30 a.m. to 9:00 p.m. and other times by appointment. (Phone: 765-455-9521) (e-mail address: iuklib@iuk.edu) Feel free to contact us or to stop by and ask for assistance.

The Library homepage Finding Information box is the starting point for searching all of the electronic resources.

Catalog of the Indiana University Libraries—IUCAT

You can connect to IUCAT from the Library homepage. IUCAT contains records for books, electronic books, Government Publications, DVD/Videos, music CDs, links to online journal titles, as well as other information formats.

Databases by Subject -- Library Databases for Medicine and Nursing

The Library's databases find primarily periodical articles.

From the Library homepage, follow the above link to find Library periodical resources containing information related to the field of nursing. The links below have been excerpted from this longer list.

- CINAHL with Full Text
CINAHL, Cumulative Index to Nursing and Allied Health Literature, is the world's most comprehensive source for nursing and allied health literature. Allied health fields include occupational therapy, physiotherapy, radiologic technology, laboratories and social sciences. Also covers biomedicine, alternative/complementary medicine and consumer health. Full-text coverage dates back to 1981.
- Journals@Ovid Full Text
Full-text of medical, scientific, and technical journal titles from over 50 publishers and societies.
- SAGE Journals Online
SAGE Journals Online is the delivery platform that provides online access to the full text of individual SAGE journals. SAGE publishes journals in Business, Humanities, Social Sciences, and Science, Technology and Medicine. All content may be searched but access to full text content is limited to 410 titles.

What is the Look for it button?

The Look for it button will help you find the full-text of articles. Resources like the EBSCO databases, the Ovid databases, and CINAHL sometimes include only the citation for an article and not the full-text. Just click on the "Look for it" button to be taken to the menu of options for full-text. "Look for it" searches across almost all library databases and will provide you a link to the full-text for the article when it is available. If the IU Kokomo Library does not have a subscription to the needed journal, you also have the option to search Google, Google Scholar, and Microsoft Academic Live for the article with just a click. Authors are now often posting pre-publication versions of their articles on their own Web sites or in institutional repositories. "Look for it" is also available through Google Scholar. Just click on the "Available @ IU Kokomo" link to be taken to the "Look for it" menu and options for full-text. Google Scholar has access to our holdings, so the "Available @ IU Kokomo" link means that we should have the article in full-text.

I found a citation in a list of References (bibliography). Do we have the article?
 Use Citation Linker to check to see if the Library has access to the specific periodical article.

The more boxes you can complete, the better your chances of finding the exact article. You must have ONE of the following four items in order for the Citation Linker to work – a journal title, or an ISSN, or DOI number or PMID number. (You will find these numbers on the database screen for the article.)
