

Considering International Travel in 2008? Apply for a Passport NOW!

IU Kokomo and the School of Nursing are creating some opportunities for students to participate in international educational activities in 2008. One opportunity may come as early as Spring Break. Permission from the Indiana University Overseas Study Advisory Council is pending and details of offerings cannot be made public until we have approval. IF you are at all interested in doing any international travel in 2008 and do not have a current passport you should apply NOW. Processing times for passports and even for renewals have been in the 6 month range due to increasing numbers of individuals travelling abroad and because the US now even requires passports for travel to and from Canada and Mexico. You may apply for a passport through the post office. Passports are good for up to 10 years.
