The School of Education invites applications for adjunct positions beginning August 1, 2015. Information about the department and our facilities can be found at: www.iuk.edu/education. Applicants must have expertise and be able to teach undergraduate courses in the following areas:

EDUC-P 251 Educational Psychology for Elementary Teachers (3 cr.) The application of psychological concepts to school learning and teaching using the perspective of development from childhood through preadolescence is emphasized. Special attention is devoted to the needs of the handicapped.

EDUC-P 255 Educational Psychology for Middle and Secondary School Teachers (3 cr.) The application of psychological concepts to school learning and teaching in the perspective of development from the beginning of preadolescence through adolescence is emphasized. Special attention is devoted to the needs of the handicapped.

EDUC-Q 200 Introduction to Scientific Inquiry (3 cr.) This course provides the elementary education major with background in the science process skills needed to complete required science courses.

EDUC-E 328 Science in the Elementary Schools (3 cr.) This course focuses on: Objectives, philosophy, selection, and organization of science materials and methods; Concept development and use of the multidimensional materials in science experiments; Analysis of assessment techniques and bibliographical materials. Field experience arranged in public schools.

EDUC-E 340 Methods of Teaching Reading in the Elementary Schools I This course focuses on materials, methods, and techniques employed in a developmental reading program. Field experience arranged in public schools.

EDUC-K 490 Topical Seminar: Assessment 1 (3 cr.) Assessment and Instruction This seminar assists students in gaining knowledge of formal and informal assessment techniques; how to link assessment to curriculum and instruction; and how to effectively choose, construct, deliver, and evaluate curriculum and instruction to students with diverse learning needs.

EDUC-L 504 This course examines methods and tools for identifying and working with students with literacy difficulties. It emphasizes ongoing assessment as part of the teaching process as well as techniques that are effective with at-risk literacy learners.
EDUC-M 446 Methods of Teaching Senior High/Junior High/Middle School Science (3 cr.) This course is designed for students who plan to teach biology, chemistry, earth science, general science, or physics in junior high/middle school or secondary school.

EDUC-M 457 Methods of Teaching Senior High/Junior High/Middle School Mathematics (3 cr.) This course is the study of methodology, heuristics of problem solving, curriculum design, instructional computing, professional affiliations, and teaching of daily lessons in the domain of secondary and/or junior high/middle school mathematics.

EDUC-S 503 Secondary School Education (3 cr.) This course is designed to provide an overview for the teacher of the basic theories underlying the secondary school curriculum, as well as an examination of the subject areas, problems, trends, and challenges for the future and significant research in the field.

Applicants must have at least a MS/MA degree in Elementary Education or Secondary Education, have taught for a minimum of three years in a public school, and hold a current teaching license.

Applicants should send an email to saamidor@iuk.edu or pcpaese@iuk.edu, and include a letter of interest, unofficial university transcripts of undergraduate and graduate degrees, and copies of any professional licenses or certifications held.

One of eight campuses of Indiana University, Indiana University Kokomo is a comprehensive non-residential campus located 50 miles north of Indianapolis in Kokomo, Indiana, a city with a population of about 47,000. Committed to student success, the campus serves approximately 3,700 students from an 11-county area in north central Indiana. An additional 250 pursue degrees in technology in cooperation with Purdue University. IU Kokomo has approximately 100 full-time faculty, 140 full-time staff and 125 part-time employees. Associate, baccalaureate, and masters are offered. Additional information about Indiana University Kokomo can be accessed at http://www.iuk.edu. Persons with disabilities who need assistance to participate in this application process should contact the Office of Affirmative Action at 765-455-9529.

Indiana University is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer